Overview

The increasing rates of diabetes in the UAE and the Gulf States pose significant challenges that are too complex for any person, organization, institution or government to tackle alone. Through this local and international expert interdisciplinary conference a collaborative effort will enhance healthcare skills and knowledge for the benefit of diabetes, and control of its complications.

Sheikh Khalifa Medical City, Ajman has a favorable reputation for the delivery of high-quality conferences towards the professional development of colleagues committed to diabetes care and complication control wherefore it also this year is a pleasure to invite companies to participate in this successful event.
